We, the Yearbook Staff, dedicate the '67 MOUNTAINEER to the graduates of Reserve High School who are doing their duty by defending our country.

Academics

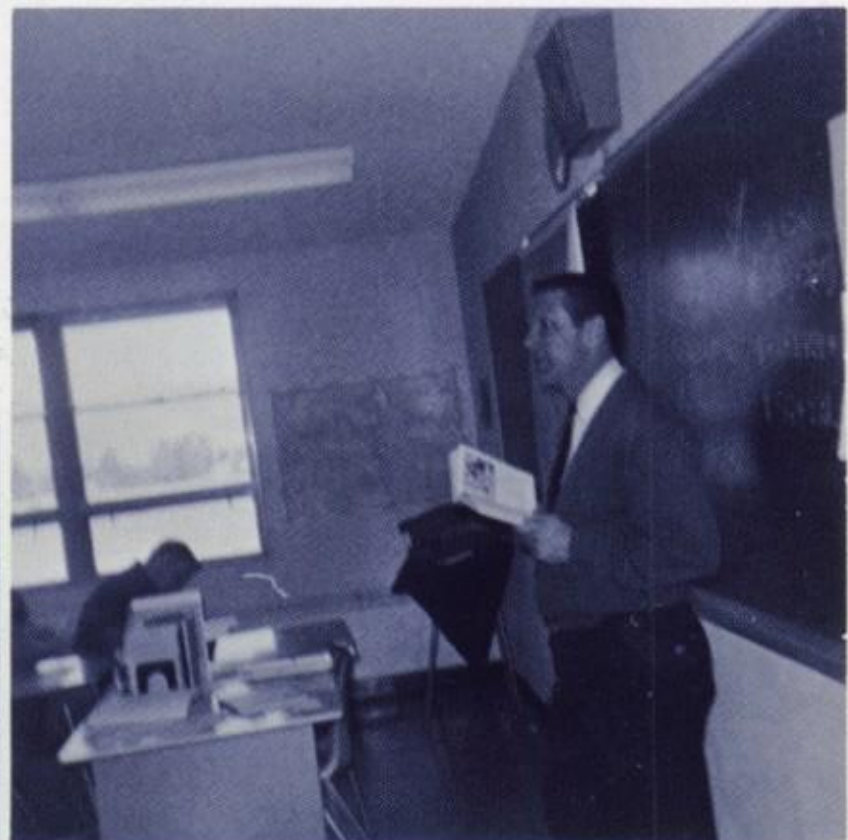

Biology student Duane Sneddon studies the anatomy of the human body.

Brenda S. and Mike R. are making use of reference books available in the library.

Algebra I students concentrate as Mrs. Fuller explains a problem.

Mr. Livingston gives instructions to his studious Spanish class.

We, the 5th period typing class, do hereby declare that we spend most of our time erasing!

We hope you appreciate the yearbook pictures as much as we do.

They look good enough to eat. Mona Laney, left, was honored when she received Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Reserve High School.

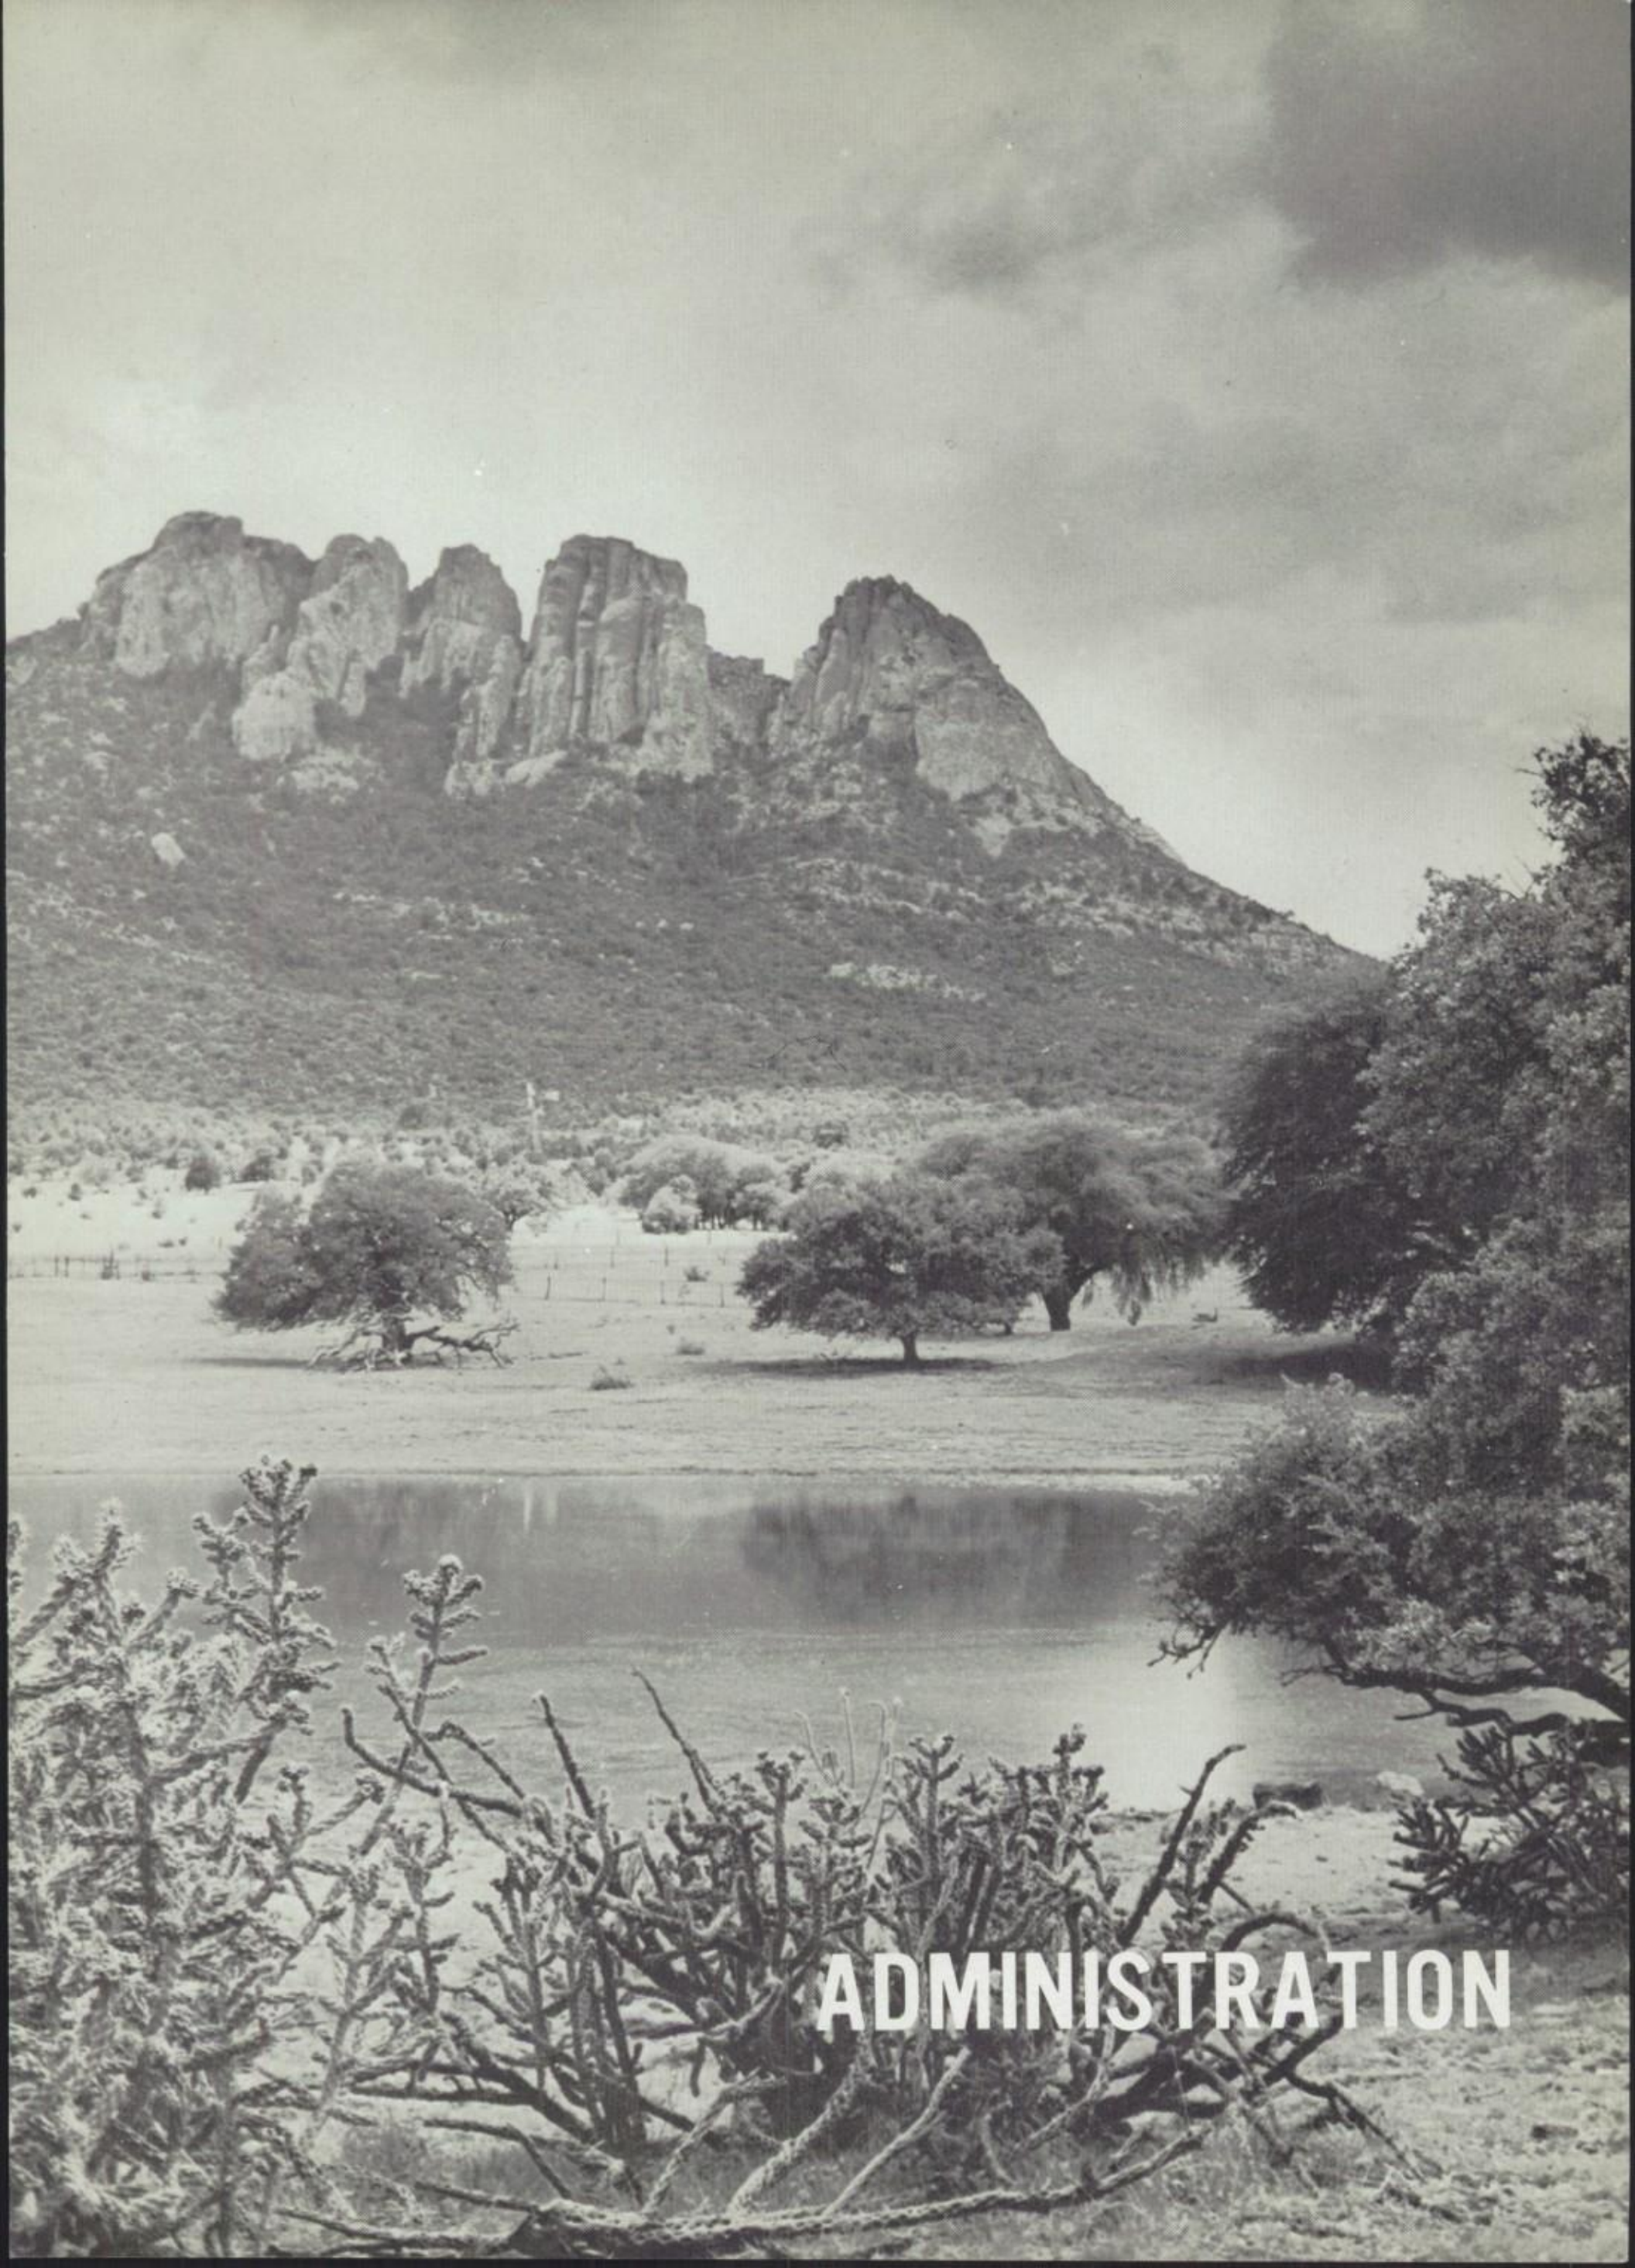

Look out Behind!

The school spirit is abundant as we proudly sing our school song and look down upon the town of Reserve.

I would like at this time to congratulate the faculty, Board of Education, and student body for their interest and endeavor in making the 1966--67 school year a real success. The desirable results we have seen this year have been apparent and could not have been accomplished had the faculty, Board of Education, and student body not strived earnestly for these results.

I particularly want to congratulate the annual staff members for the effort they have produced in preparation of the yearbook. The Senior Class of 1967 deserves congratulations too. My sincere best wishes go with everyone of them as he or she leaves Reserve High School.

Remember Seniors:

"There can be but a single goal of education, and that-education to courage."

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

I wish to commend the Yearbook Staff for its diligence and continuous effort to make this year's publication an improvement over previous years.

This attitude, I believe, is exemplified in all our school activities. Everyone seems to want to work a little harder and to achieve a little more.

I wish to thank all those who have made an honest effort to make our school, and the school year, as successful as it has been.

Reserve High School is a school highly respected in New Mexico and I am glad to see the desire on the part of all school people to keep it on a high plane.

Versatility is the key word used to describe the 1966-67 Reserve High School Band; just as the seasons change so does this fine instrumental group. The concert band under the leadership of Duke H. Stephenson has enriched the cultural life of many through their unsurpassed musical presentations. Besides inspiring students, the band presented the first annual Fall and Spring Concert for the general public.

The Future Farmers of America is a part of the Vocational Agricultural Program. Its members learn through active participation to conduct meetings, assume civic responsibilities, answer financial questions and the art of public speaking.

Many boys are able to gain employment after graduation because of things learned in Vocational Agriculture. The F.F.A. also helps to establish them in the vocations of farming and ranching.

Mr. Luoma

Reserve High School is very fortunate in having as our guidance counselor Mr. Hugo Luoma. Mr. Luoma influences, guides, teaches, and maintains our spirit. He stresses the fundamental value of knowledge and its role in our changing world. By doing so, he has laid the foundation for a solid future.

Our Favorite
Teacher
Mr. Moore

As students pass from grade to grade, some teacher becomes known as their favorite teacher. " In order for a teacher to become a favorite, he has to be more than just a friend. He has to have the ability to teach well in order for the students to understand. Mr. Moore is this kind of teacher.

The poet, Longfellow, has written:

"The Great Teacher said, I see no best in kind, only in degree.

I gave a various gift to each,
to charm, to strengthen, and to teach."

No words of praise can add one iota to Mr. Moore's greatness.

His monument of goodness, his monument of service speak louder, longer, and more forcefully than any words can express.

BADGES OF DISTINCTION

A cap, a gown and a diploma . . . badges of distinction for the hard-working graduate. These ingredients can open the door to a promising new world and let the wise graduate take another step toward building a secure future.

Planning for the future means success.

At Kennecott's Chino Mines Division, planning requires trained people to put into effect the ever-changing procedures of an ever-changing world. Such planning assures continued success for Kennecott's operations.

To the people of New Mexico, Kennecott's success means the prospect of continued benefits, some of which help support the state's educational system.

The badges of distinction are held by this year's graduate. He will be the one to help Kennecott, society and himself build a better world.
